AIEL-Genoa Spring Workshop

Labour Market Institutions

26th - 27th May 2022

Call for Posters

The AIEL-Italian Association of Labour Economics and the PhD in Economics and Political Economy of the University of Genoa announce a two-day workshop on Labour Market Institutions that will take place on the 26th and 27th May 2022. The workshop will bring together leading international speakers working on the topics of labour market institutions with researchers interested in the topic and young scholars. With this aim, there will be a special poster session for PhD students. A maximum of 8 students will be selected and invited to present their research. High-quality original research papers focusing on any area of labour market institutions will be considered. All posters will be displayed throughout both workshop days. Authors will be asked to illustrate their findings to the audience for the whole duration of the poster sessions. Details regarding the specific format will be sent to the selected authors.

PhD students interested in presenting a poster are invited to submit their papers: full draft is preferred but extended abstract (at least 5 pages) will also be considered. We welcome both theoretical and empirically oriented submissions. The paper should include a short summary and JEL codes. Submissions - PDF file - should be sent no later than 31 March 2022, to both the following e-mails: aiel@aiel.it, aiel@unisa.it.

There is no registration fee. In addition, the organizers will cover the social dinner and part of the travel and lodging costs of poster session presenters (a fixed amount of 250 Euros each).

Prize for Best Poster of 500 Euros will be awarded. The selection will be made by the members of the Scientific Committee. The winner will be announced on the second day, before closing the workshop.

Please, notice that it is a two-day in-person event and participants are expected to attend the entire workshop.
